

Lipoic Plus

Lipoic Plus is formulated as a versatile, stand-alone, comprehensive antioxidant formula, as well as providing synergistic support for Glucogone with blood sugar balance, insulin sensitivity and weight control.

- Lipoic acid is often referred to as the universal antioxidant, due to its unique ability to operate in both fat- and water-soluble tissues in the body
- Lipoic acid stimulates the production of glutathione, the body's primary endogenous ("in-house") antioxidant, as well as extending the functional lifespan of vitamins C and E
- Lipoic acid also facilitates glucose transport into the cells, increases insulin sensitivity, and enhances peripheral circulation
- PMN exclusively uses European pharmaceutical grade alpha-lipoic acid (also known as thioctic acid), rather than the less pure Chinese form used in most lipoic acid products
- Formulated to allow a wide dosing range (from 1 to 6 per day) without exceeding the safe daily intake of any of the component nutrients
- Available in bottles of both 90 and 180 vegetarian capsules

Other Ingredients:

- Curcumin, an extract of the spice turmeric, is increasingly known for its antioxidant, anti-inflammatory, lipid balancing and anti-cancer properties, and, like lipoic acid, may also provide useful nutritional support for individuals with hepatitis C
- Green tea extract works synergistically with curcumin, as well as being a potent antioxidant in its own right; our extract has an unusually high 80% polyphenol content, with 30% EGCG (epigallocatechin gallate)
- Biotin is included partly because it is depleted by lipoic acid and partly because it also assists in maintaining stable blood sugar levels
- Selenium is included as it works synergistically with lipoic acid in stimulating glutathione synthesis
